Scholarship Search Websites

There are many national scholarships listed on database search websites. The advantage of using these free websites is that after taking a few minutes to enter personal information, the sites will match you to scholarships you might want to consider.

Appily: www.appily.com

College Board's Scholarship Search:
https://bigfuture.collegeboard.org/scholarship-search

Fastweb: www.fastweb.com

Finaid: https://finaid.org/

Greater Kansas City Community Foundation: https://gkccf.academicworks.com/

Scholarships.com: www.scholarships.com

The downside is that these free websites are selling your data to colleges and other companies interested in advertising to teenagers. Recognize you will hear from many colleges that you may not be interested in. You might consider setting up a separate email to field the junk mail that occurs when using these scholarship search websites.
